Cody, We want to express to you what a pleasure it has been to work with you and Nutech on our BCE # 3 Well. After the well was drilled we were looking for someone to help us identify the best formations to develop. We had drilled 2 earlier wells and had not received beneficial advice and the wells have not been developed to anyone's satisfaction.

If you recall we met you at the Oklahoma City Geological Society expo and had spoken to you about Nutech's services. You offered good sound advice and we made an appointment with you to review our logs etc. We gave you the logs and whatever other information that would be helpful and Nutech produced a petrophysical log analysis that is an excellent visual /management tool. You met with us on a Saturday morning so our partner from Austin could be here to explain the results of the tests. We were thrilled with the results. The presentation is very impressive and well laid out for the non-specialist to get a grasp of what information is displayed on the electric logs.

This helped us develop our completion strategies in a multi-zone prospect. When we had the recommendations from our geologist and engineer, we went back to the Nutech log analysis to see if they were in line with what had been revealed to us with your log.

You also advised us where to perf and what kind of a frack we should put on the formation. Again we matched that up with what the engineer and the frack company suggested. Much to our pleasant surprise we did IP the well at 65 bbls/day and thanks to you and the Nutrech logs we made a successful well by having credible and understandable information.

So not only did we grasp a better understanding of the formations we have, but you gave us peace of mind. It reminds me of the Allstate commercial "Your in good hands with _____ (Nutech). Thank you so much for working with us. We look forward to using your services in our next drilling project. We are happy to recommend you and Nutech to anyone who asks.
